

The Lost Abbey

Inspired Beers for Sinners and Saints Alike

www.lostabbey.com

AVAILABILITY- Year Round

DESCRIPTION & INFORMATION

AROMA- This is most definitely a yeast driven beer. In the nose, you will find hints of pepper, fresh apples and some faint clove notes. This melange of spice and fruits blast out at you like the Devil's own pied piper. It's alluring.

TASTE- There's something so silky and seductive about Golden Strong ales. At once, they are light in body yet never stray too far from the Cauldron of Alcoholic riches. Your first sip will reveal a faint malt sweetness that will be crushed by the Overlord's love of sugar and spice and all things nice. Consuming a whole bottle may find you banished to hell.

COLOR- Yellow like the tips of Lucifer's flames.

OG- 1.075

FG- 1.008

BODY- Light to Medium Light with yeast and faint malt qualities present

ABV- 8.5%

HOPS- German Magnum and Saaz

SPECIAL INGREDIENTS- The Fallen Angel isn't saying

SUGGESTED SERVING TEMPERATURE 45- 50 F

SUGGESTED GLASS- Any manner of Goblets or stemware. Please O Please, just no pint glasses.

FORMATS- Cork finished 750 ml and 375 ml Bottles

SUGGESTED FOOD PAIRINGS- A light body beer with yeast flavors galore, Inferno affords the adventurous eater opportunities to pair with Seafood, Salads and Cheese. Some measure of Asian and Thai foods will find a willing partner with Inferno. It seems that "He's" always looking for new victims.

155 Mata Way
Suite 104
San Marcos, Ca. 92069
800-918-6816